

Create a number line that represents the growth of the beanstalk between Day 5 and Day 19. Mark in several relationships on your number line and represent those relationships using two exponential expressions.

