

You're running a science experiment to see how long it takes a piece of pizza to grow moldy. On the morning of your experiment, you place the pizza in a petri dish with 1 gram of mold at initial time  $t=0$ , and the amount of mold increases by a factor of 3 each hour. Estimate the hour when there will be 50 grams of mold.

