

DEFINITION: A parabola is the set of points that are equal distance from a fixed point (called the focus) and a fixed line (called the directrix).

Use the definition of the parabola and the Pythagorean theorem to find the x-value of a point on the parabola when the y-value is 5.

